Subject: Declared Value on UPS shipments to L-3 Electron Devices

Dear Valued Supplier:

L-3 Communications Electron Devices Division (EDD) has verified that some shipments sent from suppliers have a "Declared Value" indicating the value of the shipment. Specifically for UPS shipments, this designation results in a significant additional insurance charge on the shipment incurred on the account.

Since insurance for shipments is provided through other arrangements, in all cases, no entry should be made under "Declared Value" when shipping via UPS.

Please make the necessary arrangements to ensure this option is not selected on shipments made to L-3 Electron Devices. In the event, shipments are identified with such charges incurred; you will be notified through your applicable buyer.

Feel free to contact your buyer with any additional questions or requests for additional information.

Thanks for your continued support and assistance.
